House Leader Sees OK Of New Tax Bill

Revenue Measure Being Readied By Ways And Means Committee

WASHINGTON, June 9—Chances for enactment of a tax bill this year brightened somewhat when Democratic Leader McCormack, Mass., promised House consideration soon.

McCormack said the new revenue bill being drafted by the Ways and Means Committee definitely will be voted upon by the House.

Since he arranges the legislative agenda for the House, his assurance disposed of rumors that the bill might be shunted aside because of administration opposition.

The majority leader appeared confident that the Ways and Means Committee will bring out a bill, even though its chairman, Rep. Doughton, (D) N. C., and other members of the group

U. S. Cannot Win Alone

Allied Aid Needed In Another War

WASHINGTON, June 9—Gen. Omar Bradley warned today that American forces alone "are not sufficient to fight a major war" and will not be by the end of the next fiscal year, but said that with Allied aid the United States can "win a war if it comes."

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff disclosed that since last September when President Truman announced Russian possession of an atomic weapon, military leaders have become "increasingly concerned" over the defense of Alaska.

Bradley called for the "first increase" of defenses in that area, with reinforced ground troops and a better air warning system bolstered by "a few more intercepter groups."

The Senate Appropriations Committee made public testimony by Bradley, Defense Secretary Johnson, and other military experts. Included was this warning by Former Undersecretary of the Army Tracy Voorhees:

"Gen. MacArthur considered that with the explosive situation, the dangerous situation in the Far East, it would be a very great mistake psychologically as well as otherwise to have any reduction in troops out there."

BRADLEY emphasized that "the eventual strength of our country depends on its industrial capacity." He said the $13 billion defense budget is the "minimum," but added that "we must not spend this country into col-

3rd Production Line At GE Gets Started Here

Three full production lines now are rolling in the local General Electric fluorescent lamp plant.

Ed Grigg, plant manager, said Friday that the third production line got underway this week and that the fourth is planned to be installed yet this year.

The Circleville GE plant, engineers for ten production lines, has a goal of 500 employees and an annual payroll of a million dollars.

At the present time, 170 persons are drawing GE checks in this city.

The $2.5 million factory is hiring all Circleville area persons for its work and these are screened in advance through personal interviews and aptitude tests given with the assistance of the local Bureau of Unemployment Compensation employment service.

The third production line started about a month ago, Grigg said, when newly-employed persons began detailed periods of instruction. Actual lamps began coming off the line last Tuesday.

Next goal: Production Line Number Four.

AT THE AGE of 72, Mrs. Sarah Zelder receives her diploma from Principal Melrose Martin at graduation exercises in Fairfax Evening High School, Los Angeles. Now a great-grandmother, Mrs. Zelder came to the U. S. from Russia as a young girl and it was not until she had finished raising a family that she had time to study.

Two More Men Bound To Jury In Theft Cases

Two more Circleville men were held for Pickaway County grand jury action Friday in connection with recent burglaries in the city.

Bound to the grand jury Thursday on $500 bonds each were Charles Hill, 35, of 730 South Scioto street, and Robert E. Knece, 25, of East Mill street.

Knece is accused of having broken into a tool shed owned by Floyd Weller, East Main street, and stealing tools valued at $500.

Hill is accused of breaking into the New and Used Parts Store, Clinton street, and stealing tools valued at $50.

In addition, Paul "Bucky" Stevens, 23, of 726 Long Alley, was held on $200 bond Wednesday on an accusation that he transported and concealed the tools stolen from the Clinton street store.

MORE THAN a half dozen men were questioned this week in connection with the cases. They were quizzed constantly by (Continued on Page Two)

Crime Probers Prepare Cross Index To Show Bookmakers, Doperunners

WASHINGTON, June 9—The Senate crime committee today is compiling an index card file listing hundreds of America's criminals ranging from white slave traffickers to "king-size" bookmakers.

Sen. Kefauver, (D) Tenn., who heads the group, said his staff has been working for weeks to build up the expanding list.

The latest addition to the file, supplied by Narcotics Commissioner H. J. Anslinger, is an 800-name roster of persons allegedly connected with the nation's illicit drugs ring.

The list already contained names supplied by New York police after a raid on big-time bookie Frank Erickson's headquarters and from the committee's probe of the Miami, Fla., underworld.

Kefauver said: "I am inclined to the view that there is no national overlord of crime. My preliminary investigation leads me to believe that there are several crime rings operating in the nation—some of them intertwining and overlapping, but some of them essentially separate in actual function."

The crime chairman pointed out that criminals can use tax-free illicit gains to buy into legitimate businesses.

HE SAID THAT if "these gambling profits" can be channeled into Uncle Sam's pocket "we could lower our overall taxes."

The chairman said that the committee will not go into the Kansas City, Kans., vote frauds case unless ramifications "give it interstate status."

Kefauver said the evidence shows that every major criminal deals in a variety of crimes. Each time a name comes up in connection with one phase of criminal activity, that information is added to the index card. Along with that particular name, other names inevitably turn up his contacts. ## President Has 6-Point Plan Ready

Post-Marshall Plan Program Outlined

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 9—President Truman declared today that U. S. aid to the free nations of the world must be continued on a large scale after the Marshall Plan ends in 1952 to hurl back the forces of Communism and maintain peace.

The President, speaking at commencement exercises of the University of Missouri, asserted: "Our vital national interest in a healthy world economy will not end in 1952. It will be just as necessary then as it is today to have a secure economic foundation for world peace."

"This secure foundation requires not only a successful recovery from the devastation of war. It requires the kind of dynamic progress which proves that the way of freedom can satisfy the economic needs of man. The economic well-being of other free nations around the world is important to our common efforts for peace. It is also important to our own economic well-being."

Mr. Truman was back in his home state for three days to receive an honorary degree at the Missouri university and to attend the annual reunion of his World War I unit, the 35th Division, in St. Louis.

HE CAME TO Columbia by train this morning after flying to St. Louis yesterday. After his address and a faculty luncheon, the President returns to St. Louis to join his war comrades in their reunion tonight and Saturday.

The President said in his foreign policy speech that the United States is now undertaking an exhaustive study to determine what further steps must be undertaken to continue the economic recovery of Western Europe and other non-Communist states after the Marshall Plan ends.

He said that in its own self-interest, the U. S. must continue large-scale military aid under the North Atlantic Pact, until such time as the free nations are strong enough to contain or prevent any military attack by Russia.

Mr. Truman said that the primary objective, after the Marshall Plan, is to close the "dollar gap" between the United States and non-dollar countries.

He outlined a six-point program which he said should have a marked bearing on this economic imbalance. He said that later in the year recommendations will be made for a program of assistance which will go beyond the Marshall Plan.

Corn Borer Eggs Discovered On County Corn

Corn borer is back in Pickaway County.

And local officials "estimate" that the borer will be as bad here this year as it was in 1949 when it appeared at its worst in ten years.

Larry A. Best, county agricultural extension agent, made the announcement about Friday when after he spotted freshly-laid egg masses on leaves of corn along Route 22 west of Circleville.

The patch infested was early sweet corn which already is tassling. Most field corn in this county is not more than 18 inches tall.

COMMIES GO UNDERGROUND

54,174 Reds In U. S. Each Claim To Have 10 Helpers

WASHINGTON, June 9—Congress has a report today by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover that the Communists claim a "potential fifth column" of 540,000 to pry into American atomic, military and industrial secrets.

The FBI chief told a Senate appropriations subcommittee that the entire Red movement is going underground.

He emphasized that subversive activities in the U. S. today exceed those of "either Nazism or Fascism" during World War II. Hoover, in support of a request for more funds for his agency, estimated that there are 54,174 members in the Communist Party in this country. He added:

"The party leaders boast that for every party member there are ten others who are ready, willing and able to do the party's work."

"There is a larger volume of subversive activities than existed at any period during the last war."

"COMMUNISM today is at a greater height in the United States than either Nazism or Fascism were during the last world war." Hoover asserted that Commun-

Horseback Ride May Cost $250

WASHINGTON, June 9—A soldier with a penchant for horseback riding may cost his government $250.

The money will go to Mr. and Mrs. Thurman L. Bomer of Shelbyville, Tenn., if President Truman signs a measure approved by the Senate.

The GI, during Army maneuvers in 1943, borrowed one of the Bomer horses for a gallop around their pasture and unfortunately sideswiped a piece of farm equipment, inflicting fatal injuries on the animal. The Army never learned the GI's identity.

Flush Travelers Just Officials

WASHINGTON, June 9 — It looked for a moment like the Brinks' bank robbery might be solved.

An airline ticket agent became suspicious when four men paid about $4,000 for passage to Guam by nonchalantly reeling off $50-dollar bills.

G-Men discovered that the four men actually were only representatives of a government agency going to Guam on official business.

ists and fellow-travelers are after information on atomic research, radar, jet propulsion, coastal maps, military airports, biological warfare and industrial resources.

The FBI chief said that the recent conviction of 11 Red leaders in New York has stimulated the Communist tendency to go underground. He declared:

"To counteract the FBI's penetration of the Communist Party, its leaders have established a far-reaching and vigorous loyalty program of its own, calling for the establishment of investigating committees in each state, and a thorough investigation of each member of the party as to personal history, activities, associations, contacts and length of membership."

The FBI director said it is becoming more and more difficult for his men to penetrate the party than ever before. He reported:

"Public meetings are maintained at an absolute minimum, party records have been destroyed or removed to clandestine hiding places."

"Secret printing facilities and supplies have been secreted for future underground operations. Transfers of party members from one district to another are now controlled through the use of an elaborate identification system."

Hoover gave this partial breakdown of Communists in the U. S.:

New York 25,000; California 6,977; Illinois, 3,361; Pennsylvania 2,876; Ohio 2,834; Michigan 1,250; Massachusetts 1,022; Nevada 23; Wyoming 10; Tennessee 27; New Hampshire 43, and Alabama 141.

10 Lancaster Escapees 'Home'

COLUMBUS, June 9 — All 10 of the boys who escaped from the Boys Industrial School near Lancaster Wednesday night in the biggest break in that institution's history, today are back in custody.

The remaining three of the escapees were picked up in Goodale Park here last night. They are Richard Leyman, 17, of Salem, and Billy Davis and Jack Harris, both 18, of Columbus.

The state highway patrol arrested four of the boys earlier yesterday after a chase in a stolen car, and three of the fugitives were found shortly after the escape, hiding in weeds near Lancaster.

CURIOSITY CAN LEAD TO TROUBLE, as Little Johnny Giordano, 2, of Los Angeles, discovered. The youngster found an asbestos pipe and squeezed it over his head, just to see if it would fit. It did, but wouldn't come off. At the fire station, Captain Ralph Wade (left) greased Jimmy's head and slipped off the offending "collar."

REASONS SAID 'OBVIOUS'

Sunday Night Baseball Tilt Banned By Commissioner

NEW YORK, June 9—Baseball Commissioner Albert B. Chandler formally ordered the St. Louis Cardinals today to cancel plans for a Sunday night game with the Brooklyn Dodgers in St. Louis.

The high commissioner ended widespread comment over the proposed inauguration of Sunday night baseball in the majors in a telegram dispatched to Fred Saigh, owner of the Cardinals, who had billed a split double-header of afternoon and night games with the Dodgers Sunday, July 16.

The commissioner, in his wire sent from New York, said that "for reason that must be obvious to you the game must not be played." Then gave his reasons as follows:

"1—In some of our states, Sunday baseball is not now legal. We are playing at the sufferance of the people of these states."

"2—The playing of this game on Sunday night during church services would cause us to forfeit the support and good will of thousands of religious people in this country."

"3—While there is no baseball rule which prohibits the playing of Sunday night games during church services, there also is no baseball rule which authorizes such a game."

"4—THE PLAYING of this game could and probably would bring on attacks against Sunday baseball laws which we presently have. Our present situation with respect to Sunday baseball has wide public acceptance and we should not do anything to en-

WASHINGTON, June 9 — Two Hollywood writers were sent to jail today to begin serving terms for contempt of Congress based on their refusal to say whether they ever were Communists.

John Howard Lawson and Dalton Trumbo, two of the 10 film-land figures convicted of contempt of the House UnAmerican Activities Committee in 1946, were ordered committed to the District of Columbia jail. Lawson and Trumbo were sentenced to one year in prison and fined $1,000 each on the contempt charge.

House Leader Sees OK Of New Tax Bill

Revenue Measure Being Readied
By Ways And Means Committee

WASHINGTON, June 9—Chances for enactment of a tax bill this year brightened somewhat when Democratic Leader McCormack, Mass., promised House consideration soon.

McCormack said the new revenue bill being drafted by the Ways and Means Committee definitely will be voted upon by the House.

Since he arranges the legislative agenda for the House, his assurance disposed of rumors that the bill might be shelved aside because of administration opposition.

The majority leader appeared confident that the Ways and Means Committee will bring out a bill, even though its chairman, Rep. Doughton, (D) N. C., and other members of the group have expressed doubt. McCormack declared:

"We're going to act on a tax bill this year."
Senate action on a tax bill still remains in doubt. The prospects for Senate consideration will be improved if the House passes a bill which does not increase the government's deficit.

THE WAYS AND MEANS Committee is wrestling with a prospective $600 million revenue loss. This represents the difference between the $1.1 billion a year in excise tax cuts it has approved and the new revenue it proposes to pick up.

There is almost general agreement that if the Senate is to consider a tax bill, Congress must remain in session beyond July 31, the date Senate Democrats have tentatively set for adjournment.

Senate leaders are averse to remaining in session after July just to send President Truman a tax bill which he will be sure to veto. Mr. Truman has warned that he will disapprove any tax legislation that substantially increases the deficit.

The President asked Congress to cut retail excise taxes $655 million and to raise corporation income taxes and make other changes that would result in a net tax increase of approximately $1 billion.

The Ways and Means Committee has not done this.

It has three proposals to increase corporation taxes. These apparently represent the last major source of new revenue remaining with which to balance the bill.

If present hopes are realized the tax bill may come up in the House June 26 and action may be completed by June 30.

Gold, 2 Others, Are Indicted

WASHINGTON, June 9 — The Justice Department announced today that a federal grand jury in Brooklyn has indicted Philadelphia Chemist Harry Gold and two unnamed defendants for conspiracy to commit espionage.

The indictment charged that Gold along with one John Doe, alias "John," and one Richard Roe, alias "Sam," conspired together to commit espionage for the Soviet Union. The indictment noted that the true and correct names of Doe and Roe are unknown to the grand jury.

Kefauver said the evidence shows that every major criminal deals in a variety of crimes.

Each time a name comes up in connection with one phase of criminal activity, that information is added to the index card. Along with that particular name, other names inevitably turn up his contacts. These too go into the file.

Thus, the record soon shows that any particular individual dealt with one group in connection with narcotics and with another group in connection with gambling.

This quickly gives the committee a fairly complete picture of the important individuals in any one racket. The picture will be filled in with closed-door grilling of the men themselves.

One committee source gave this explanation of the list's usefulness:

"It's silly to think we could work on a geographical basis. How could our small staff go into any single city and 'clean up crime'? We couldn't do it."

"But once this card file is cross-indexed sufficiently, we can go right to the center of any given field of criminal activity."

"That's when the cities will fall right into place—in exactly the way they fit into the interstate picture of crime and the way their criminals fit in."

CURIOSITY CAN LEAD TO TROUBLE, as Little Johnny Giordano, 2, of Los Angeles, discovered. The youngster found an asbestos pipe and squeezed it over his head, just to see if it would fit. "5—St. Louis is the cradle of the Sunday double-header, which has wide public approval and support of the baseball fans of your city. This proposed change will be viewed by baseball fans there as an attempt to collect two Sunday admissions and at the same time constitute abandonment of the Sunday double-header which has meant so much to them."

"6—This is to notify you as owner of the St. Louis National League baseball club that the commissioner would hold that the playing of this game on Sunday night during church services would not be in the best interests of baseball."

The high commissioner then said:

"You are hereby ordered to cancel at once any plans for playing this game."

President Has 6-Point Plan Ready

Post-Marshall Plan
Program Outlined

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 9—President Truman declared today that U. S. aid to the free nations of the world must be continued on a large scale after the Marshall Plan ends in 1952 to hurl back the forces of Communism and maintain peace.

The President, speaking at commencement exercises of the University of Missouri, asserted:

"Our vital national interest in a healthy world economy will not end in 1952. It will be just as necessary then as it is today to have a secure economic foundation for world peace."

"This secure foundation requires not only a successful recovery from the devastation of war. It requires the kind of dynamic progress which proves that the way of freedom can satisfy the economic needs of man."

"The economic well-being of other free nations around the world is important to our common efforts for peace. It is also important to our own economic well-being."

Mr. Truman was back in his home state for three days to receive an honorary degree at the Missouri university and to attend the annual reunion of his World War I unit, the 35th Division, in St. Louis.

HE CAME TO Columbia by train this morning after flying to St. Louis yesterday. After his address and a faculty luncheon, the President returns to St. Louis to join his war comrades in their reunion tonight and Saturday.

The President said in his foreign policy speech that the United States is now undertaking an exhaustive study to determine what further steps must be undertaken to continue the economic recovery of Western Europe and other non-Communist states after the Marshall Plan ends.

He said that in its own self-interest, the U. S. must continue large-scale military aid under the North Atlantic Pact, until such time as the free nations are strong enough to contain or prevent any military attack by Russia.

Mr. Truman said that the primary objective, after the Marshall Plan, is to close the "dollar gap" between the United States and non-dollar countries.

He outlined a six-point program which he said should have a marked bearing on this economic imbalance. He said that later in the year recommendations will be made for a program of assistance which will go beyond the Marshall Plan.

The President declared: "These aid programs can be substantially reduced this year, (Continued on Page Two)"

Corn Borer Eggs Discovered On County Corn

Corn borer is back in Pickaway County.

And local officials "estimate" that the borer will be as bad here this year as it was in 1949 when it appeared at its worst in ten years.

Larry A. Best, county agricultural extension agent, made the announcement about Friday when after he spotted freshly-laid egg masses on leaves of corn along Route 22 west of Circleville.

The patch infested was early sweet corn which already is tassing. Most field corn in this county is not more than 15 inches tall.

Best gave this precaution: Farmers should start immediate checks of their corn fields, looking for very small white patches of borer eggs.

and in later years, as the recovery and economic development of other nations progresses.
"Obviously, we do not want to continue our extraordinary financial assistance to other countries any longer than necessary.
"That is why we must look ahead to plan for the changes that will be necessary to assure a high level of normal trade and investment among nations as our aid programs are reduced."

MR. TRUMAN outlined the following program for closing the "dollar gap," preliminary to a final decision on an integrated plan for aiding non-Communist countries after the Marshall Plan ends:

1. The United States must import more goods from Europe to make more dollars available abroad with which to purchase American goods.
2. The United States should plan to make larger investments abroad as economic and political conditions become more stable.
3. Increased foreign travel by Americans should provide more dollars abroad for purchase of products in this country.
4. The United States "must continue to reduce tariff and other import barriers in return for similar reductions by other countries."
5. It must develop "international principles for fair trade." To do this, the President asked for congressional approval of U. S. membership in the International Trade Organization, a UN group.
6. The United States must develop the Point Four Plan for aid to underdeveloped areas of the world "in our own interest as well as theirs."

Traffic Check Is Scheduled

Circleville's first major traffic safety "spot check" was to have been held on South Court street Friday afternoon.

State Highway Patrolman Clyde Wells said the check was to have been conducted by four other state patrolmen and members of Circleville's police force.
Complete results of the check for auto traffic safety hazards will be tabulated Saturday.

Early Morning Rubbish Fire Brings Arrest

A Circleville man is being held in city jail for investigation of a rubbish fire which threatened several houses on Weldon avenue early Friday.

Circleville firemen were called at 1:15 a. m. Friday to extinguish a fire in rubbish on Weldon avenue.

"I was told that someone had seen another person pouring what appeared to be kerosene on the rubbish earlier," said Fire Chief Talmer Wise.

The chief said that he and his men worked nearly an hour to subdue the smoldering rubbish pile.

"It could have been set intentionally," said the chief.

Wise pointed out that the rubbish pile—"about three truckloads"—was only about five feet from one house and about 10 feet from another. Several houses are grouped together in the area, he said.

The man being held was arrested near the scene at 2 a. m. by Officers Mack Wise and Carl Thompson.

here about a week later than expected.

If inspection shows 50 egg masses per 100 plants in field corn or 20 masses per 100 plants in sweet corn, farmers should stand by.

Spraying can be used to whip the pest, but spraying is not recommended for about 10 days. Best and his aides are determining instructions now.

Best said borers are more injurious to open pollinated corn than to hybrids. Fortunately, only about five percent of corn planted in Pickaway County is of the open variety.

Circleville police and Pickaway County sheriff's department.

Police Chief William F. McCrady said Friday that all but one of the other men who were arrested earlier have been released. The man in question is being held for questioning in connection with house burglaries.

Hill entered a plea of guilty when arraigned Thursday before Mayor Thurman I. Miller. Knece pleaded innocent.

Knece told the authorities that he had purchased the tools from a man one day on East Franklin street, but said he couldn't remember who the man was.

The man was arrested while working with the tools at the new First Evangelical United Brethren church Christian Service Center, almost straight across the street from the Weller home, where the tools were stolen.

Localite Hurt In Car Mishap

A former Circleville man was listed in serious condition Friday in Chillicothe hospital following an auto mishap there.

Walter Crawford, 25, of Chillicothe Route 1, suffered multiple cuts and abrasions to the upper portion of his body when his auto struck a tree at 12:37 a. m. Friday in Chillicothe city park.

Chillicothe police reported the Crawford auto struck a tree at the intersection of two roads in the park.

The injured man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford, 125 Walnut street.

Law Briefing Given For Cops

Circleville police were briefed on their duties and their new rules book during a special meeting Thursday in City Hall.

City Solicitor George Gerhardt conducted the training program, explaining in detail the portions of city ordinances which have been puzzling the officers.

Clyde Leist, Circleville service director, said the meeting lasted an hour and a half and was so popular that the session will be continued periodically in the future.

MRS. ETHEL RIFE
Mrs. Ethel Rife, 52, died at 2:30 p. m. Thursday in Berger hospital.

A native of Circleville, she was the daughter of Charles and Ida Hulse Rife. She was born July 8, 1897.

She was a member of Circleville Presbyterian church.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday in Albaugh Funeral Chapel.

Funeral services will include Mack Parrett, Durward Dowden, L. E. England, Smith Hulse, A. Hulse Hays and J. Austin Dowden.

Friends may call in the funeral home Sunday evening.

DR. C. P. BARNES

Dr. C. P. Barnes, father of Mrs. Emmett W. Barnhart of Circleville, died in Lakeside hospital, Cleveland, after a lengthy illness.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Father, Son Escapees Are Nabbed Here

Two escapees from Columbus workhouse, a father and his son, were taken into custody here Thursday by Circleville and Pickaway County lawmen.

The men, Ross Siders, 64, and his son Pearl, both of Ross County, were arrested by Circleville police and the sheriff's department on the Walt Goodman farm, south of Circleville.

Authorities said the men escaped from the Columbus institution early Wednesday, walking away while watering flowers on the workhouse grounds. They both are serving six-month sentences for petit larceny and assault.

Local authorities took the men into custody on a "tip" from an undisclosed source. The men were returned to the workhouse late Thursday.

Rifle Hearing Gets Underway In Courthouse

State auditor's office officials Friday afternoon were continuing a hearing concerning a finding of more than $1,600 filed against Harry Riffe, Pickaway County dog warden.

Held in Pickaway Courthouse, the hearing was divided into morning and afternoon sessions.

Although a "wrong" list of 20 odd witnesses was called for the morning hearing, one point was made clear by state officials:

The county cannot pay Humane Officer Ralph Wallace for doing both jobs as dog warden and humane officer. He can however, be hired for both jobs, but can be paid for only one.

The "wrong" list of witnesses was reported after a county prospector's aide was given a list of names of people reportedly involved in the period when Riffe was accused to have investigated animal claims, peddled carcasses to a Columbus rendering plant and pocketed the money.

It was discovered that the witnesses called were those who had dealings with Riffe, but apparently not during the period covered by the finding.

200 Kids Attend Park Breakfast

Nearly 200 youngsters attending Trinity Lutheran church's 25th annual Daily Vacation Bible school Friday had an "early bird" breakfast in Ted Lewis Park.

Horse, Pony Sale Brings Low Prices

A mass sale of 38 head of show horses and ponies was held Thursday in Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Prices were judged extremely low in the auction, some of the more handsome animals selling for less than $100.

Ed Wallace, Circleville horse fancier, entered 10 horses in the auction, while most of the other animals were get of Wallace's Honey Boy, entered by other owners.

"Prices were rather low," Wallace admitted. "I had a show pony, a 4-year-old in the best condition. I thought it should bring about $350 in the sale."

"But the pony was sold on the block for only $85," the owner said.

In addition to the animals, saddles, bridles and carts also were placed on the block for sale. The auction was handled by Willison Leist.

and in later years, as the recovery and economic development of other nations progresses.
"Obviously, we do not want to continue our extraordinary financial assistance to other countries any longer than necessary.
"That is why we must look ahead to plan for the changes that will be necessary to assure a high level of normal trade and investment among nations as our aid programs are reduced."

MR. TRUMAN outlined the following program for closing the "dollar gap," preliminary to a final decision on an integrated plan for aiding non-Communist countries after the Marshall Plan ends:

1. The United States must import more goods from Europe to make more dollars available abroad with which to purchase American goods.
2. The United States should plan to make larger investments abroad as economic and political conditions become more stable.
3. Increased foreign travel by Americans should provide more dollars abroad for purchase of products in this country.
4. The United States "must continue to reduce tariff and other import barriers in return for similar reductions by other countries."
5. It must develop "international principles for fair trade." To do this, the President asked for congressional approval of U. S. membership in the International Trade Organization, a UN group.
6. The United States must develop the Point Four Plan for aid to underdeveloped areas of the world "in our own interest as well as theirs."

Circleville's first major traffic safety "spot check" was to have been held on South Court street Friday afternoon.

Traffic Check Is Scheduled

State Highway Patrolman Clyde Wells said the check was to have been conducted by four other state patrolmen and members of Circleville's police force.

Father, Son Escapees Are Nabbed Here

Two escapees from Columbus workhouse, a father and his son, were taken into custody here Thursday by Circleville and Pickaway County lawmen.

The men, Ross Siders, 64, and his son Pearl, both of Ross County, were arrested by Circleville police and the sheriff's department on the Walt Goodman farm, south of Circleville.

Authorities said the men escaped from the Columbus institution early Wednesday, walking away while watering flowers on the workhouse grounds. They both are serving six-month sentences for petit larceny and assault.

Local authorities took the men into custody on a "tip" from an undisclosed source. The men were returned to the workhouse late Thursday.

Rifle Hearing Gets Underway In Courthouse

State auditor's office officials Friday afternoon were continuing a hearing concerning a finding of more than $1,600 filed against Harry Riffle, Pickaway County dog warden.

Held in Pickaway Courthouse, the hearing was divided into morning and afternoon sessions. Although a "wrong" list of 20-odd witnesses was called for the morning hearing, one point was made clear by state officials:

The county cannot pay Human Officer Ralph Wallace for doing both jobs as dog warden and humane officer. He can, however, be fired for both jobs, but can be paid for only one.

The "wrong" list of witnesses was reported after a county prosecutor's aide was given a list of names of people reportedly involved in the period when Riffle was accused to have investigated animal claims, peddled carcasses to a Columbus rendering plant and pocketed the money.

It was discovered that the witnesses called were those who had dealings with Riffle, but apparently not during the period covered by the finding.

200 Kids Attend Park Breakfast

Nearly 200 youngsters attending Trinity Lutheran church's 25th annual Daily Vacation Bible school Friday had an "early bird" breakfast in Ted Lewis Park.

The youngsters, accompanied by the Rev. George Troutman and other instructors, left for the park breakfast program at

The general pointed out, however, that the U. S. spent $300 billion to win World War II and "we have not won the peace."

He added:
"So if we have to go in the hole three or four billions over the period of these few years, while we are trying to win that peace, I do not think it is so serious."

Assistant Defense Secretary W. J. McNeil told the committee that there is a "substantial increase" in the guided missile allocation, and that procurement of mines and torpedoes has been accelerated.

Horse, Pony Sale Brings Low Prices

A mass sale of 38 head of show horses and ponies was held Thursday in Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Prices were judged extremely low in the auction, some of the more handsome animals selling for less than $100.

Ed Wallace, Circleville horse fancier, entered 10 horses in the auction, while most of the other animals were get of Wallace's Honey Boy, entered by other owners.

"Prices were rather low," Wallace admitted. "I had a show pony, a 4-year-old in the best condition. I thought it should bring about $350 in the sale."

"But the pony was sold on the block for only $85," the owner said.

In addition to the animals, saddles, bridles and carts also were placed on the block for sale. The auction was handled by Willson Leist.

Latins Due To Get TV Medical Aid

Surgical Training Program Readied

NEW YORK, June 9 — For the first time in Latin American medical history, surgeons and physicians will view televised surgical operations and clinical procedures conducted by leading members of their profession during the coming summer months.

As a result of an arrangement involving the International General Electric Co., Inc., surgical demonstrations and educational programs will be conducted in five Latin American countries to illustrate the training advantages of television.

Scientific personnel and equipment "Video Medico," will spend approximately a 10-day period each at San Juan, Puerto Rico; Sao Paulo, Brazil; Buenos Aires, Argentina; Caracas, Venezuela; and Mexico City, Mexico.

"Video Medico" will be demonstrated at the Brazilian Congress of Gastro-Enterology to be held in Sao Paulo and at the Congress of the International College of Surgeons at Buenos Aires.

In the demonstrations, televised surgical operations will be viewed by medical groups, which will see closeup views of the incision area.

IN THE PAST, it was explained, medical students viewing operations from an amphitheater have had their vision of the incision area and the surgery partially obstructed by the operating surgeon. Use of television provides students with an unlimited field of vision over the operating areas.

In addition to televising surgical operations, it is intended that planned programs, directed toward educational, civic,

ROVING CHILDREN

Sang the poet Tennyson:

"In the Spring a livelier iris changes on the burnished dove;

In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

The young person of two to five hasn't much interest in the object of a young man's fancy, but the livelier plumage on migrating birds interest him very much. The light and jolly way they go places allures him, also.

The poet Chaucer, 500 years before Tennyson, understood this. In the Spring he sang, Nature pricks folks in their hearts, so they long to go on pilgrimages. Partly, no doubt, to give thanks for divine help when they were sick; but mostly because it's spring and they want to go somewhere.

So Three Years Old is not really being very naughty, but merely manifesting his deep relationship with all things living, when on a warm and sunny day he wants to follow the bright flying bird, the scampering puppy, the shining, bright-colored car out into the great unknown. Five years old feels his bigness and thinks he can find the way alone to Grandma's house.

It's a terrifying experience for a parent to realize suddenly that the child is gone. It's terrifying for the child, too, if he becomes really lost. It may terrify all the neighborhood if time goes by without finding him. But when he's found he shouldn't be scolded too much or punished so it's terrifying to come home, too. He needs welcome, a warm bath, bread and milk and sleep and a feeling that "East, West, Home's best!"

There are preventives. He should know his own name, never go with strangers, but never fear a policeman. A stout tag with name, address, telephone number pinned to the back of the small garment helps a kindly passerby to notify his home. It helps the cop who takes him to the station for safe keeping till called for.

Good walks, picnics, satisfy the prick of adventure. Anticipate the urge. Give him adventure safely. He's only doing what we'd all like to do.

Despite the inconveniences, many a newsman has gained respect for the words of public figures who speak forth without having handed out an advance copy of a canned speech.

One remedy to cure traffic jams would be to forbid the use of automobiles entirely in congested areas. Next most drastic would be the recovery of the space now occupied by illegal parkers.

These Days

Many stories have been appearing in print these many years about the great Chinese private fortunes, particularly of the Kung and Soong families. Having had close relations with various members of these families for more than 30 years, I have at times suggested to some of them that they answer the attacks, which, unanswered, establish the record.

Some time ago, I wrote an article proposing that as our government has all the figures of Chinese deposits in this country, those figures be published. I did not at that time have a copy of a letter from Harry Dexter White, assistant secretary of the treasury, dated Jan. 29, 1945, which gave the Chinese assets in the United States, both official and private, as follows, with category, date and amount listed in that order:

Official—Earmarked gold, Jan. 24, 1945, $29,084,000; Deposits, Nov. 30, 1944, $515,070,000; Treasury notes, Jan. 24, 1945, $169,977,000.

Private—Deposits, Nov. 30, 1944, $92,171,000; Long-term assets, June 14, 1941, $118,000,000.

The private deposits included those of banks, firms and individuals. The official deposits included funds set aside for the redemption of outstanding U. S. dollar bonds and certificates, but do not include China's repayments to the United States government. Since 1945, the relations between the United States and China have deteriorated and the deposits in this country are smaller.

On March 3, 1950, Alfred Kohlberg, a friend of the Kung and Soong families, asked their permission to suggest to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that they were agreeable to having the data on their holdings in this country made public. Most, if not all, of their holdings in China have been confiscated by the Communists. Kohlberg said in his letter:

"I ask this because in the past the responsible officials in the Treasury Department told me that they were under obligation to the individuals concerned not to make such information public."

Dr. H. H. Kung, on March 8, 1950, wrote Kohlberg:

"To your question, although I cannot speak for others, I give the answer that I shall be perfectly agreeable to making public by the State Department or Treasury Department the factual figures on the personal funds and assets I have in this country based on actual accounts, if this action is judged by them to be pertinent and relevant to the discussion."

T. V. Soong, on May 8, 1950, wrote Kohlberg:

"I feel constrained to have you advise your friends in the United States government that I have no objection to the publication by the United States Treasury or State Department of my total holdings in the United States."

CHAPTER THIRTY

WHENEVER two or more of the mill men met, hate for the manager boiled up and over. Their grievances against him had begun to accumulate before old Eliza's going.

The younger men were more outraged by the story Loren Matthews had told around. "Run him out of the valley, the skunk. He'll be after one of ours next!"

That was said in a chorus in Tom Matthews' kitchen. Mostly they gathered there. Tom's old eyes flashed under their bushy brows but he shook his head. "Might've done it in times past but 'tisn't the way, now."

One of the men suggested that they go to Eliza herself, talk plain to her. A half-dozen voices answered him. "Her! She's thick as molasses with him!"

George Culbert was not unaware of the mounting ill-feeling toward him. But it did not concern him. "Wait 'til they hear that the whole valley is sold out from under them, the mill and their homes with it!"

He was not going to tell Eliza about the meeting he'd arranged with the Bendley people until the day before—she wouldn't have time then, to trump up any sentimental opposition to it.

He did not think of Marilyn except to tell himself he was pretty smart to fire her husband. With no practice and no job he'd have to get out of New Interval and good riddance to the two of them.

Because of her wrenched ankle Marilyn was not going out of the house. She limped around the kitchen, getting the meals together and between meals she read stories in old magazines she had saved. John wasn't home much—twice he'd driven to Cranford to see that man who'd hurt his hand and where he was other times she did not know.

She was still frightened. Whenever John came in her heart beat hard, expecting him to say he had thought of some other place to send her.

Jeremy Penny hated the bright sunshine pouring through the windows of the schoolroom. She wished there were dark shades which she could pull down to shut it out. She hated the children in the seats before her, the smaller ones in the front, and the bigger ones in the back.

Selfish. The word burned in her ears, in her head, deeper in her heart. He'd said that to her!

"Miss Penny, ain't we going to have any spelling?" asked a little girl from one of the desks.

She dismissed the class early. One of the older girls stopped at Jeremy's desk. "Are you sick, Miss Penny?"

"No, I'm not sick."

"I heard Ma tell Pa that Mrs. Abel said you were awful peaked, that you weren't eating anything. Ma said you looked to her like you had consumption. My aunt had it. Sure you're not sick, Miss Penny?"

"I'm quite sure."

She locked the schoolhouse, went out to the road, looked up and down it to be certain Chris Cameron was nowhere in sight.

At home she took off her dress, put on a kimono, lay down flat on her bed. She thought of herself laid out in a casket, pictured Ronald, her brother, beside the casket, his head and shoulders bowed under remorse and grief. Chris Cameron there, too. She made a picture of Chris alone by her dead body. She put her hands against her thin chest. Perhaps she did have tuberculosis! She became excited, happy in a strange way, thinking it might be so, that it might be the galloping kind and not be many weeks...

She would go to Doctor Streeter. She had liked his quiet manner at the party. She'd go down to his office after supper.

She sat later, in a chair by John Streeter's desk, every muscle tense, her heart beating fast, waiting for him to say it. "What gave you the idea there was anything wrong with your lungs, Miss Penny?"

"You jerked forward in her chair. 'You mean—there isn't?'"

"I can't find the slightest symptoms of anything—if you'd feel more assured about it, I'll drive you over to the hospital in Cranford for a more thorough examination. She went to the door, her step unsteady. "Wait, Miss Penny. I'll drive you home."

"I'm all right, thank you." Out on the road she walked very fast, her breath coming in little gasps of indignation. Exercise! Fresh air! The shore!

As she came to the Abel house she saw the tall figure of a man approaching. She knew the walk. She dashed across the grass to the house, closed the door behind her.

There were other ways... The thought came to her as she lay on her bed in the dark. She ought to know after typing all those manuscripts of Ronald's! Murders, mostly, in them, but there'd been the other, too.

ROVING CHILDREN

Sang the poet Tennyson:

"In the Spring a livelier iris changes on the burnished dove;

In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

The young person of two to five hasn't much interest in the object of a young man's fancy, but the livelier plumage on migrating birds interest him very much. The light and jolly way they go places allures him, also.

The poet Chaucer, 500 years before Tennyson, understood this. In the Spring he sang, Nature pricks folks in their hearts, so they long to go on pilgrimages. Partly, no doubt, to give thanks for divine help when they were sick; but mostly because it's spring and they want to go somewhere.

So Three Years Old is not really being very naughty, but merely manifesting his deep relationship with all things living, when on a warm and sunny day he wants to follow the bright flying bird, the scampering puppy, the shining, bright-colored car out into the great unknown. Five years old feels his bigness and thinks he can find the way alone to Grandma's house.

It's a terrifying experience for a parent to realize suddenly that the child is gone. It's terrifying for the child, too, if he becomes really lost. It may terrify all the neighborhood if time goes by without finding him. But when he's found he shouldn't be scolded too much or punished so it's terrifying to come home, too. He needs welcome, a warm bath, bread and milk and sleep and a feeling that "East, West, Home's best!"

There are preventives. He should know his own name, never go with strangers, but never fear a policeman. A stout tag with name, address, telephone number pinned to the back of the small garment helps a kindly passerby to notify his home. It helps the cop who takes him to the station for safe keeping till called for.

Good walks, picnics, satisfy the prick of adventure. Anticipate the urge. Give him adventure safely. He's only doing what we'd all like to do.

Despite the inconveniences, many a newsman has gained respect for the words of public figures who speak forth without having handed out an advance copy of a canned speech.

One remedy to cure traffic jams would be to forbid the use of automobiles entirely in congested areas. Next most drastic would be the recovery of the space now occupied by illegal parkers.

These Days

Many stories have been appearing in print these many years about the great Chinese private fortunes, particularly of the Kung and Soong families. Having had close relations with various members of these families for more than 30 years, I have at times suggested to some of them that they answer the attacks, which, unanswered, establish the record.

Some time ago, I wrote an article proposing that as our government has all the figures of Chinese deposits in this country, those figures be published. I did not at that time have a copy of a letter from Harry Dexter White, assistant secretary of the treasury, dated Jan. 29, 1945, which gave the Chinese assets in the United States, both official and private, as follows, with category, date and amount listed in that order:

Official—Earmarked gold, Jan. 24, 1945, $29,084,000; Deposits, Nov. 30, 1944, $515,070,000; Treasury notes, Jan. 24, 1945, $169,977,000.

Private—Deposits, Nov. 30, 1944, $92,171,000; Long-term assets, June 14, 1941, $118,000,000.

The private deposits included those of banks, firms and individuals. The official deposits included funds set aside for the redemption of outstanding U. S. dollar bonds and certificates, but do not include China's repayments to the United States government. Since 1945, the relations between the United States and China have deteriorated and the deposits in this country are smaller.

On March 3, 1950, Alfred Kohlberg, a friend of the Kung and Soong families, asked their permission to suggest to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that they were agreeable to having the data on their holdings in this country made public. Most, if not all, of their holdings in China have been confiscated by the Communists. Kohlberg said in his letter:

"I ask this because in the past the responsible officials in the Treasury Department told me that they were under obligation to the individuals concerned not to make such information public."

Dr. H. H. Kung, on March 8, 1950, wrote Kohlberg:

"To your question, although I cannot speak for others, I give the answer that I shall be perfectly agreeable to making public by the State Department or Treasury Department the factual figures on the personal funds and assets I have in this country based on actual accounts, if this action is judged by them to be pertinent and relevant to the discussion."

T. V. Soong, on May 8, 1950, wrote Kohlberg:

"I feel constrained to have you advise your friends in the United States government that I have no objection to the publication by the United States Treasury or State Department of my total holdings in the United States."

CHAPTER THIRTY

WHENEVER two or more of the mill men met, hate for the manager boiled up and over. Their grievances against him had begun to accumulate before old Eliza's going.

The younger men were more outraged by the story Loren Matthews had told around. "Run him out of the valley, the skunk. He'll be after one of ours next!"

That was said in a chorus in Tom Matthews' kitchen. Mostly they gathered there. Tom's old eyes flashed under their bushy brows but he shook his head. "Might've done it in times past, but 'tisn't the way, now."

One of the men suggested that they go to Eliza herself, talk plain to her. A half-dozen voices answered him. "Her! She's thick as molasses with him!"

George Culbert was not unaware of the mounting ill-feeling toward him. But it did not concern him. "Wait 'til they hear that the whole valley is sold out from under them, the mill and their homes with it!"

He was not going to tell Eliza about the meeting he'd arranged with the Bendley people until the day before—she wouldn't have time, then, to trump up any sentimental opposition to it.

He did not think of Marilyn except to find himself was pretty smart to find her husband. With no practice and no job he'd have to get out of New Interval and good riddance to the two of them.

Because of her wretched ankle Marilyn was not going out of the house. She limped around the kitchen, getting the meals together and between meals she read stories in old magazines she had saved. John wasn't home much—twice he'd driven to Cranford to see that man who'd hurt his hand and where he was other times she did not know.

She was still frightened. Whenever John came in her heart beat hard, expecting him to say he had thought of some other place to send her.

Jeremy Penny hated the bright sunshine pouring through the windows of the schoolroom. She wished there were dark shades which she could pull down to shut it out. She hated the children in the seats before her, the smaller ones in the front, and the bigger ones in the back.

Selfish. The word burned in her ears, in her head, deeper in her heart. He'd said that to her!

"Miss Penny, ain't we going to have any spelling?" asked a little girl from one of the desks.

She dismissed the class early. One of the older girls stopped at Jeremy's desk. "Are you sick, Miss Penny?"

"No, I'm not sick." "I heard Mr. Tell Pa that Mrs. Abel said you were awful peevish, that you weren't eating anything. Ma said you looked to her like you had consumption. My aunt had it. Sure you're not sick, Miss Penny?"

"I'm quite sure." She locked the schoolhouse, went out to the road, looked up and down it to be certain Chris Cameron was nowhere in sight.

At home she took off her dress, put on a kimono, lay down flat on her bed. She thought of herself laid out in a casket, pictured Ronald, her brother, beside the casket, his head and shoulders bowed under remorse and grief. Chris Cameron there, too. She made a picture of Chris alone by her dead body. She put her hands against her thin chest. Perhaps she did have tuberculosis! She became excited, happy in a strange way, thinking it might be so, that it might be the galloping kind and not be many weeks. After all she could see his remorse if he came before she died, and not after.

She would write a note of last instructions. She'd give it, sealed, to Mrs. Abel. She would write that she wanted to be buried here in the valley, no service, no flowers. Ronald would come and see the bare, lonely grave—Chris Cameron must pass it every time he went to Pete Smead's store.

If she knew, she might write to Ronald. I've only a few weeks to live. If you care to, you may come to New Interval. After all she could see his remorse if he came before she died, and not after.

She would go to Doctor Streeter. She had liked his quiet manner at the party. She'd go down to his office after supper.

She sat later, in a chair by John Streeter's desk, every muscle tense, her heart beating fast, waiting for him to say it. "What gave you the idea there was anything wrong with your lungs, Miss Penny?"

"You mean forward in her chair."

"I can't find the slightest symptoms of anything—if you'd feel more assured about it, I'll drive you over to the hospital in Cranford for a more thorough examination. In my opinion you've let yourself get run down—more exercise, more fresh air will give you a better appetite. Try that for a few weeks. School is almost over, isn't it? Why don't you go down to the shore somewhere for the summer vacation?"

"Oh!" It exploded from Jeremy's lips. She sprang to her feet. "What is your fee?"

"There's no fee."

She went to the door, her step unsteady.

"Wait, Miss Penny. I'll drive you home."

"I'm all right, thank you."

Out on the road she walked very fast, her breath coming in little gasps of indignation. Exercise! Fresh air! The shore!

As she came to the Abel house she saw the tall figure of a man approaching. She knew the walk. She darted across the grass to the house, closed the door behind her.

There were other ways... The thought came to her as she lay on her bed in the dark. She ought to know after typing all those manuscripts of Ronald's! Murders, mostly, in them, but there'd been the other, too.

But nothing of the unrest touched Eliza or Chris Cameron. Every afternoon Chris came and they sat side by side on the broad doorstep, talking.

Eliza did not ask herself what was happening or give a name to the feeling of the warmth in her heart where frozenness had been.

She showed an old map to Chris and Chris studied it with interest. "That first Forrestal probably beat many a lonely hour when he first came, by planning his community of good neighbors."

Eliza's eyes were on the valley, sun-washed and still, below them.

NEW YORK—Never in Ken Murray's life has he been known as a phlegmatic man and it is unlikely he ever will be. But the state of his nerves now is improved considerably over what it was about 10 months ago, when he came back to New York to live after 28 years. For awhile, to hear him tell it, it was tough and go whether he would end up in a rest home, happy with his scissors and paper dolls.

Murray is the amiably brash entrepreneur whose career over the years has progressed from vaudeville through the incredibly successful Blackouts revue in Hollywood to the rarified heights of television, where currently he is one of the most lavishly-paid performers in the short history of that abortive medium. The word is that the beer company which sponsors him on TV is building a new factory over in New Jersey so as to expand its business sufficiently to be able to pay Murray's wages.

All this makes Murray happy, but when he arrived in town last fall, it was different. The TV deal brought him here, but he figured he might as well kill two birds, so he shut down Blackouts at the El Capitan theater in Hollywood, where it had endured for eight monstrously profitable years, and brought that to New York, too. Not without some doubts. Breezy, swift-moving slapstick shows without subtlety, on which the hinterlands seem to thrive, never do too well in Manhattan and Murray knew it. A few years ago, for instance, a Chicago show called Goodnight, Ladies! came to New York after a phenomenal run in the midwest—and the drama critics here calmly kicked it to small pieces and forced it to shut down in short order.

"If there had been no comment at all, pro and con, on Blackouts," Murray told me today, doggedly chewing on a dead cigar as he rode over to the Roxy theater in a taxicab—with him clutching desperately at my arm at every near-accident—"the show would have made it, here in New York. The mail orders were knee-deep in the box-office. But you can't beat the critics here. They all twisted the knife, as if they personally hated my guts, and that made it rough."

"IF YOU HAVE MATCHED MURRAY AT WORK, slapping people on the back and telling his countless lovely and corny jokes, he looks like a man who never could be sad. But when the nine old men razored his show, he got very depressed. Now, in California, when his worries got too much for him, Murray had a simple and inexpensive cure. He just got into his car, maybe with his wife but usually alone, and drove off into the hills, looking at nature and, gradually, realizing the actual smallness of his problem and understanding that, as Lincoln used to say, this, too, will pass away."

He tried it about three times in New York. Beaten by the glooms, he jumped into a car and started out of town. The only trouble was—he couldn't get out of town. He discovered that once you are caught in New York's crostown traffic, you are a dead duck. Your relatives will never know what became of you.

"I was almost a mental case," he recalled darkly, as we took the elevator upstairs in the Roxy and he began trying on Indian head-dresses for publicity photos. "I don't need any doctors or psychiatrists when I'm worried. All I want to do is get into my car and drive out to nature. Maybe I got a little Thoreau in me. But when I tried it here—I was worse than when I started!"

MURRAY FINALLY got an apartment overlooking Central Park—"and isn't that getting straggler every year?"—and he plunged into his TV work, but it took awhile before he was anywhere near out of the woods. In a couple of weeks now, his shows will be over for the summer and he and his bride, a showgirl named Betty Lou Walters, will head back for California on the first train. But in the fall they'll be back for more television, and he expects that he will be a fitter man by then.

It is sad that Murray is so depressed by our grotesque traffic, our water shortages, our beat-up parks and the present seedy appearance of Broadway, because he is a New York boy himself. "312 E. 55th St. is where I was born," he announced to me. But it has been 28 years since he lived here on a permanent basis and eight years since he was here on any basis at all. Even the most professional New Yorker, like myself, would not care to say that the city is growing any more charming, at least superficially, each year.

"But you can get used to anything," the nervous Murray said, finally, "and I've learned one valuable lesson in the last year. If you're in show business, you can't stay away from New York for any eight years. I'll never do it again. Never." When I left him, though, he didn't look exactly elated by his decision.

Professional Supervisor Secured To Direct Girl Scout Summer Activities

July Program Being Readied

This is the first year that Pickaway County Girl Scouts will have had a professional supervisor for Summer activities program. She will be Mrs. Foster Rhinehart and has been procured through Girl Scout Headquarters.

Summer activities program is scheduled for the second and third week in July. The program will be held in Girl Scout camp in Goldcliff Park.

Mrs. Rhinehart, a trained Girl Scout worker, will take over supervision of Brownie activities planned for Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of the second week in July; she will supervise Summer activities for Intermediate Girl Scouts Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of the third week in July.

Temporary Girl Scout Summer activities committee, named by Mrs. Bernard Young, Girl Scout commissioner for Pickaway County, includes Mrs. George Barnes, Mrs. John Gordon, Mrs. A. P. McCoard, Mrs. Charles Goeller and Mrs. William Steele, all of Circleville, and Mrs. Raymond Lindsey of Ashville.

The committee will meet next week in the home of Mrs. George Barnes to complete plans.

Miss Carol Leist will be swimming instructor. Scouts attending Summer activities will have aquatic instruction in Gold Cliff swimming pool each morning. Miss Leist has been assistant instructor for two years.

She leaves Monday for Limerlost Camp near LaGrange, Ind., where she will attend National Red Cross Aquatic School for ten days. Circleville Red Cross will provide her scholarship.

Miss Leist will have adequate adult help during swimming hours to insure water safety of beginners.

Mrs. Rhinehart also will have adult assistants during Summer activities. Assistants will be selected by the committee.

Mrs. M. E. Noggle, camp chairman, will be present to help with nature study one of the special interests to be offered will be handicrafts and folk dancing.

Eighty Girl Scouts and Brownies have registered for Summer activities. Ashville registrations have not been included in this number.

Ashville Club To Supervise Skating Periods

Five members of Women's Civic Club will serve each week as supervisors of the free Summer skating sponsored by Women's Civic Club of Ashville. Mrs. Harold Cameron was named skating chairman. Skating started in Community Park Tuesday.

Plans for the skating project were completed at a recent dinner meeting held in Canal Winchester attended by 32 members and two guests. It was decided that the supervisors at the skating rink would also have charge of the sale of refreshments. Refreshment proceeds help to finance the project. Mrs. Ralph Cloud was named chairman of refreshment concession.

Guest speaker at the dinner was Miss Justina Eich, professor of English at Capital University. She had as her topic the country of "Iceland." Colored slides were used to illustrate her talk.

Professional Supervisor Secured To Direct Girl Scout Summer Activities

July Program Being Readied

This is the first year that Pickaway County Girl Scouts will have had a professional supervisor for Summer activities program. She will be Mrs. Foster Rhinehart and has been procured through Girl Scout Headquarters.

Summer activities program is scheduled for the second and third week in July. The program will be held in Girl Scout camp in Goldcliff Park.

Mrs. Rhinehart, a trained Girl Scout worker, will take over supervision of Brownie activities planned for Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of the second week in July; she will supervise Summer activities for Intermediate Girl Scouts Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of the third week in July.

Temporary Girl Scout Summer activities committee, named by Mrs. Bernard Young, Girl Scout commissioner for Pickaway County, includes Mrs. George Barnes, Mrs. John Gordon, Mrs. A. P. McCoard, Mrs. Charles Goeller and Mrs. William Steele, all of Circleville, and Mrs. Raymond Lindsey of Ashville.

The committee will meet next week in the home of Mrs. George Barnes to complete plans.

Miss Carol Leist will be swimming instructor, Scouts attending Summer activities will have aquatic instruction in Gold Cliff swimming pool each morning. Miss Leist has been assistant instructor for two years.

She leaves Monday for Limerlost Camp near LaGrange, Ind., where she will attend National Red Cross Aquatic School for ten days. Circleville Red Cross will provide her scholarship.

Miss Leist will have adequate adult help during swimming hours to insure water safety of beginners.

Mrs. Rhinehart also will have adult assistants during Summer activities. Assistants will be selected by the committee.

Mrs. M. E. Noggle, camp chairman, will be present to help with nature study one of the special interests group to be offered in the afternoon. Other special interests to be offered will be handicrafts and folk dancing. Eighty Girl Scouts and Brownies have registered for Summer activities. Ashville registrations have not been included in this number.

Ashville Club To Supervise Skating Periods

Five members of Women's Civic Club will serve each week as supervisors of the free Summer skating sponsored by Women's Civic Club of Ashville. Mrs. Harold Cameron was named skating chairman. Skating started in Community Park Tuesday.

Plans for the skating project were completed at a recent dinner meeting held in Canal Winchester attended by 32 members and two guests. It was decided that the supervisors at the skating rink would also have charge of the sale of refreshments. Refreshment proceeds help to finance the project. Mrs. Ralph Cloud was named chairman of refreshment concession.

Guest speaker at the dinner was Miss Justina Elch, professor of English at Capital University. She had as her topic the country of "Iceland." Colored slides were used to illustrate her talk.

Mrs. Warren Bastian became a member of the club.

Dumm-Valentine Marriage Told

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Leona Dumm and Hylas E. Valentine both of Circleville.

The Rev. James Herbst officiated at the ceremony which took place in Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church Saturday evening. Bert Valentine, brother of the bridegroom, his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Zurluh of Lima were present.

Magic Sewing Club Meets

Mrs. Charles Mumaw Jr. was guest when Mrs. Paul Turner entertained Magic Sewing Club in her home Wednesday evening.

The first part of the time was spent in sewing and social visiting. During the game hour winners were Mrs. Gladden Troutman and Mrs. Mumaw.

The hostess served a dessert course.

Mrs. John Grubb will be hostess to the group at the next meeting.

Junior Women Stage Picnic

Junior Women's Club members entertained their families at a Wednesday evening picnic in Ted Lewis Park.

In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Henry Reid. Games were played followed by a basket supper for the 24 members and guests present.

Zephaniah Calls to Repentance

JEHOVAH WILL SAVE THOSE WHO SEEK HIM

Scripture—Zephaniah.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THE PROPHET whose dire warnings we study today may have been distantly related to former kings of Judah. If he was, as indicated by the introduction to his prophecies, he was doubtless familiar with the habits—moral, physical and spiritual—of the wealthy but unbelieving people whom he so heartily berated.

About this time, we are told, there was a temporary incursion of Scythians into southwestern Asia. This was in the year 627 B. C. Zephaniah was sure that the day of reckoning had come for his people, indeed for the world as he knew it.

His prophecies never have come true, but as the world grows older and men of science discover more and more of earth's secrets, we wonder sometimes if the destruction so vividly pictured by the prophet of old may not come true, if we disregard God's warnings.

There are many prophets in the world today, warning us, as Zephaniah did his people; they plead with us to realize our danger, to repent us of our iniquities, to return to God, and join with all holy souls to save the world. Only man's soul, a modern poet tells us, is stronger than the atom bomb. It can control that bomb with His help.

Zephaniah's language is direct and forceful. Speaking in the name of the Lord, he said:

"And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with lamps; and I will punish the men that are settled on their lees, that say in their heart, Jehovah will not do good, neither will He do evil."

"And their wealth shall become a spoil, and their houses a desolation: yea, they shall build houses, but shall not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but shall not drink the wine thereof."

"The great day of Jehovah is near, it is near and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of Jehovah; the mighty man crieth there bitterly.

"That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of vastness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness.

"A day of the trumpet and alarm, against the fortified cities, and against the high battlements."

Picturesque language this, giving us a dismal picture indeed of what the prophet foresaw.

The men the poet threatened were those who lived at ease, without troubling themselves about social or spiritual righteousness. They had grown indifferent to their religion—possibly did not believe there was a Jehovah, or at any rate that He interfered for either good or evil in men's affairs.

Children are punished by their parents or guardians for their faults, not because they do love them, but because they do. They must be taught what is right and what is wrong, so that they will grow up to choose the right and reject the wrong.

Older people suffer for their sins, too. For what we call crimes, they are shut up in prison; sometimes they forfeit their lives. But whether we are caught and punished physically for what we do, we suffer, for the voice of God within us informs us when we do evil.

Drastic as Zephaniah's threatnings were, he finished his short book on a joyous note—a comforting word.

"Seek ye Jehovah, all ye meek of the earth, that have kept His ordinances; seek righteousness, seek meekness; it may be ye will be hid in the day of Jehovah's anger."

"Jehovah thy God is in the midst of thee, a mighty one who will save; He will rejoice over thee with joy; He will rest in His love; He will joy over thee with singing."

Lima Methodist Leader Dies

LIMA, June 9—Dr. David F. Helms, 91, dean of Ohio Methodist retired ministers, died yesterday in his Lima home of a heart disorder.

The former Lima district superintendent entered the ministry in 1881 in Arcanum and served pastorates in Anna, Wauseo, Columbus Grove, Fayette, Hicksville, Lima and Toledo.

The Boston Tea Party was only one of six similar "tea parties" in the American Colonies.

Dollar for Dollar- you can't beat a PONTIAC

A Wonderful Performer — at a Wonderful Price!

Almost everybody has a good word for the immensely popular Pontiac. The most enthusiastic spokesmen are those who own this great car. The facts behind this admiration of Pontiac are very simple—
Pontiac is America's lowest-priced Straight Eight. Pontiac is the lowest-priced car with GM Hydra-Matic Drive. Pontiac is the most beautiful thing on wheels. And Pontiac is famed everywhere for its dependability and economy.
Those are the facts, and they are impressive. But they are a lot more impressive to the person behind the wheel of a Pontiac. He knows for sure that dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac!

Dollar for Dollar— you can't beat a PONTIAC

A Wonderful Performer —at a Wonderful Price!

Almost everybody has a good word for the immensely popular Pontiac. The most enthusiastic spokesmen are those who own this great car. The facts behind this admiration of Pontiac are very simple—

Pontiac is America's lowest-priced Straight Eight. Pontiac is the lowest-priced car with GM Hydra-Matic Drive. Pontiac is the most beautiful thing on wheels. And Pontiac is famed everywhere for its dependability and economy.

Those are the facts, and they are impressive. But they are a lot more impressive to the person behind the wheel of a Pontiac. He knows for sure that dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac!

TERMITES

Cause damage in excess of fifty million dollars annually for REPAIRS alone. These destructive pests work in secret and may be destroying your property NOW. Have it inspected by an expert and be sure. There is no charge for the inspection, and if your property is not infested they will tell you so. If termites are present you will be SHOWN and a fair price quoted for a treatment which is guaranteed for TEN YEARS.

Many irresponsible amateurs—self-styled "exterminators"—and "part time" entomologists offer fantastic "guarantees" and bargain prices, but you owe it to yourself to be SURE you are securing the services of a thoroughly reliable and FINANCIALLY RESPONSIBLE company whose guarantee really has a meaning.

An effective termite treatment must not only eliminate the termites now present in the structure, but also prevent the countless thousands of others, who live in the GROUND outside the house, from returning.

The almost unbelievable cunning of the termite makes the successful treatment of your property a job for those who have the proper equipment and the KNOW HOW. Further, because of the termites' tenacity and persistence it is sometimes impossible to completely exterminate them with ONE treatment.

Therefore it is vital that the company doing the job be AVAILABLE later to return, if necessary. Unless you are SURE of this fact you may find yourself with a "Guarantee" but no one STILL IN BUSINESS to MAKE GOOD.

Always remember—a guarantee is only as good as the man who gives it.

We are local representatives of a reputable and FINANCIALLY RESPONSIBLE company who are ACCREDITED MEMBERS OF THE OHIO PEST CONTROL ASSOCIATION.

TERMITES
Cause damage in excess of fifty million dollars annually for REPAIRS alone. These destructive pests work in secret and may be destroying your property NOW. Have it inspected by an expert and be sure. There is no charge for the inspection, and if your property is not infested they will tell you so. If termites are present you will be SHOWN and a fair price quoted for a treatment which is guaranteed for TEN YEARS.

Many irresponsible amateurs—self-styled exterminators—and "part time" entomologists offer fantastic "guarantees" and bargain prices, but you owe it to yourself to be SURE you are securing the services of a thoroughly reliable and FINANCIALLY RESPONSIBLE company whose guarantee really has a meaning.

An effective termite treatment must not only eliminate the termites now present in the structure, but also prevent the countless thousands of others, who live in the GROUND outside the house, from returning. The almost unbelievable cunning of the termite makes the successful treatment of your property a job for those who have the proper equipment and the KNOW HOW, further, because of the termites tenacity and persistence it is sometimes impossible to completely exterminate them with ONE treatment. Therefore it is vital that the company doing the job be AVAILABLE later to return, if necessary. Unless you are SURE of this fact you may find yourself with a "Guarantee" but no one STILL IN BUSINESS to MAKE GOOD.

Always remember—a guarantee is only as good as the man who gives it.

We are local representatives of a reputable and FINANCIALLY RESPONSIBLE company who are ACCREDITED MEMBERS OF THE OHIO PEST CONTROL ASSOCIATION.

SOX CHALK 29-4 SLAUGHTER

Boston Run Party Upsets Data In Record Books

NEW YORK, June 9 — They finally located the hottest spot in the world. And believe it or not, the place can be found in New England.

It's a circular plot of ground 60 feet from home plate in Boston's Fenway Park. And it has a unique feature. The heat gets turned on only when visitors occupy the spot.

Four St. Louis Brown' pitchers tried out the area yesterday and had their toolboxes simmered, but good. Anyway they contributed to an historic occasion. For June 8, 1950, will go down in baseball history as the day the Boston Red Sox made a shambles of almost every modern scoring record.

The 29 to 4 slaughter inflicted upon the lowly Browns will be known henceforth as the Boston Run Party. The record books will carry the score as the greatest run production by a modern major league team in a single day. The old mark of 28 by the St. Louis Cardinals died as of yesterday. But there was more. Much more. Consider this:

The 60 total bases by the Sox obliterated the mark of 55 set by Cincinnati. The Sox two-day total of 49 runs wiped out the record of 40 formerly held by the Yankees and the Red Sox.

The two-day total of 51 hits killed off the old standards of 46 which was shared by the Athletics and these same Sox.

THE FENWAY FLAILERS belted seven homeruns yesterday, one short of the major league mark of eight. Al Zarilla tied a record shared by many by hitting four doubles. Leadoff Man Clyde Volter came to bat eight times in eight innings. That's a record.

Bobby Doerr hit three homers. Ted Williams hit two. Walt Drobot hit two. Williams now has 16, Drobot 14.

Let it be said that Chuck Stobbs won his fourth game for the Sox. After all, he was required to get 27 outs.

Now let's go back. In seven home games Boston has scored 104 runs. Their opponents have tallied 37. The current stand has netted six wins against one loss.

And still the Red Sox are in third place, three games behind the pace-setting New York Yankees.

Records or no, the Bombers opened daylight in their battle with Detroit by walloping the Tigers, 11 to 4 last night. It gave New York a 2½ game lead over the Bengals and Tommy Byrne notched his seventh straight win. He has lost only once—but not to Detroit.

The lefty has beaten them three times this season and now has a lifetime mark of 11-2 against them. Young Art Houtteman was blasted out during a seven-run sixth inning.

Phil Rizzuto made his first error after 58 errorless ball games at shortstop for the Yankees.

In other night games, a single by Relief Hurler Mickey Harris in the ninth inning gave the Washington Senators a 7 to 6 win over Cleveland. Al Rosen hit his twelfth homer, a grand slammer in the first inning for Cleveland. And Alex Kellner hurled the Philadelphia Athletics to a 5 to 4 win over the Chicago White Sox.

BROOKLYN'S Dodgers shared first place in the National League today with an old friend, St. Louis.

Pittsburgh's Pirates ended a five-game losing streak by stopping the Dodgers, 4 to 3. The Bucs had to stave off a ninth inning rally to achieve the victory.

Ralph Kiner hit his eleventh homer and Cliff Chambers, the winning pitcher, Ralph Branca, the losing pitcher, and Clyde McCullough each hit their first homers.

The Cardinals blasted the Braves, 18 to 6. Boston shelled Harry Brecheen from the hill in the first with a four-run uprising, but St. Louis doubled this in their half off Johnny Sain. Freddy Martin came in for the Redbirds and coasted home.

Philadelphia dropped to third place by losing, 8 to 4, to Ken Raffensberger of Cincinnati. Del Ennis and Andy Seminick homered for the Phils and Grady Hatton hit one for the Reds.

The New York Giants extended their win streak to six straight by edging the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 5, on Roy Weatherly's pinch single in the eighth. Andy Pafko, Phil Cavarretta and Hank Sauer collected homers for the little Bruins.

Unknown With Aching Back Takes Amazing Lead In U. S. Open Test

ARDMORE, Pa., June 9—An unemployed nobody with a pain in his back and a record on his scorecard led all the king's men today into the second round of a U. S. Open golf championship gone crazy.

The cry of "oh, my aching back!"—which should be reserved for Lee Mackey Jr., who really does have sacroiliac trouble—echoed instead from the lords of the game today as they looked, still not entirely in belief, at the record-smashing 64 alongside Mackey's name on the big Merion Golf Club board.

They looked further and saw the name of Al Brosch, a New York redhead who doesn't play the big tournament wheel, in second place with a 67. Then they saw the name of Julius Boros, vaguely known to some as a newby from Connecticut and Southern Pines, N. C., with a 68.

Circleville GI Awaits Vault Test In Japan

Pfc. James Mogan of Circleville will participate in an artillery division track meet in Japan later this Spring.

Mogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Mogan of 401 North Scioto street, recently won the polevault event held in Camp Drew, Koisumi, Japan.

The local man topped all other contestants from the first cavalry artillery in the 1950 Spring meet, earning the right to compete later in a meet in Camp Drake, Asaka, Japan.

Mogan entered the U. S. Army in 1948 and was trained in Ft. Knox, Ky. He is assigned with the 77th Field Artillery Battalion as cannonner with the 105 millimeter howitzer firing section.

They sighed in relief at the familiar handle of Skip Alexander, also at 66. But they gaped anew at the names of Harold Williams and Henry Williams, the first from Alabama and the second from Pennsylvania, who were utterly unrelated until they produced a pair of identical 69s to tie for fifth place at the end of yesterday's first round.

Where were the stars?

THEY WERE, as Connie Mack first said in predicting where the Athletics would finish in 1901, there or thereabouts.

Defending Champion Cary Middlecoff had a 71. Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum and Jimmy Demaret had 72s. Sam Snead putted like a gibbon and had a 73, three strokes over par for the 6,694-yard Merion snake pit.

Par is 70, and Mackey, 26-year-old parttime instructor from Birmingham, Ala., who is playing in his first U. S. Open, beat it by six strokes with his 64.

Jimmy McHale, the local amateur, had the old open single-round record of 65 and Tom Creavy had the old competitive course record of 66, set in the 1934 open at Merion when he was the only player to break par.

What's more, the tall, good-looking Mackey, who sports a crew cut and the mannerisms of his teacher, Ex-Ballplayer Sam Byrd, could make it two records in a row today even if he shot no better than a 73.

That would give him a two-round total of 137 to beat Snead's 1948 count of 138 which stands as the tournament's record for the first 36 holes.

Offer Readied For Philly A's

PHILADELPHIA, June 9 — A syndicate of businessmen reportedly will make a formal bid to buy the sixth-place Philadelphia Athletics within the next 48 hours.

James P. Clark, president of the Eagles professional football team, declared that he has already discussed the matter with Connie Mack Jr., treasurer of the A's.

Members of the Mack family indicated that they were willing to listen to offers, at least.

Yellowbud Tops Dunlaps, 6-4

Pickaway Grain of Yellowbud posted 6-4 victory over Dunlaps of Williamsport Thursday in an exhibition softball game in Ted Lewis Park.

The score of the game was tied at 4-all in the fifth frame of the encounter, while the Yellowbud aggregation broke the deadlock in the sixth with its winning brace of runs.

Winning pitcher for the Grain team was Roy Bartlett, while William Elliott was charged with the Williamsport loss.

Local Riflemen Finish Second In CORL Test

Circleville finished second in the Central Ohio Rifle League match held Sunday on the Zanesville range, according to official scores just released by the CORL.

Columbus won the match with a total of 3160. The local aggregation finished 3153, and the Tri-County aggregation scored 3151. Zanesville, Granville and Roseville trailed in that order.

D. E. Jacoby of Circleville won the any sight division in Class A with a total of 397. Don Campbell won the Class B any sight aggregate with 397, and L. Campbell took both the iron and any sight honors in Class C, firing 391 and 395.

Circleville remains third in league standing. Tri-county is second and Columbus in top position.

Shooters of Central Ohio will gather in Chillicothe June 18 when the Tri-county aggregation acts as host for the third league match.

	Iron	Any	Total
D. E. Jacoby	395	397	792
A. C. Noecker	397	396	791

SOX CHALK 29-4 SLAUGHTER

Boston Run Party Upsets Data In Record Books

NEW YORK, June 9 — They finally located the hottest spot in the world. And believe it or not, the place can be found in New England.

It's a circular plot of ground 60 feet from home plate in Boston's Fenway Park. And it has a unique feature. The heat gets turned on only when visitors occupy the spot.

Four St. Louis Brown' pitchers tried out the area yesterday and had their toolboxes simmered, but good. Anyway they contributed to an historic occasion. For June 8, 1950, will go down in baseball history as the day the Boston Red Sox made a shambles of almost every modern scoring record.

The 29 to 4 slaughter inflicted upon the lowly Brownies will be known henceforth as the Boston Run Party. The record books will carry the score as the greatest run production by a modern major league team in a single day. The old mark of 28 by the St. Louis Cardinals died as of yesterday. But there was more. Much more. Consider this:

The 60 total bases by the Sox obliterated the mark of 55 set by Cincinnati. The Sox two-day total of 49 runs wiped out the rec-

Local Riflemen Finish Second In CORL Test

Circleville finished second in the Central Ohio Rifle League match held Sunday on the Zanesville range, according to official scores just released by the CORL.

Columbus won the match with a total of 3160. The local aggregation fired 3153, and the Tri-County aggregation scored 3151. Zanesville, Granville and Roseville trailed in that order.

D. E. Jacoby of Circleville won the any sight division in Class A with a total of 397. Don Campbell won the Class B any sight aggregate with 397, and L. Campbell took both the iron and any sight honors in Class C, firing 391 and 395.

Circleville remains third in league standing. Tri-county is second and Columbus in top position.

Shooters of Central Ohio will gather in Chillicothe June 18 when the Tri-county aggregation acts as host for the third league match.

Unknown With Aching Back Takes Amazing Lead In U. S. Open Test

ARDMORE, Pa., June 9—An unemployed nobody with a pain in his back and a record on his scorecard led all the king's men today into the second round of a U. S. Open golf championship gone crazy.

The cry of "oh, my aching back!"—which should be reserved for Lee Mackey Jr., who really does have sacroiliac trouble—echoed instead from the lords of the game today as they looked, still not entirely in belief, at the record-smashing 64 alongside Mackey's name on the big Merion Golf Club board.

They looked further and saw the name of Al Brosch, a New York redhead who doesn't play the big tournament wheel, in second place with a 67. Then they saw the name of Julius Boros, vaguely known to some as a new-lywed from Connecticut and Southern Pines, N. C., with a 68.

Circleville GI Awaits Vault Test In Japan

Pfc. James Mogan of Circleville will participate in an artillery division track meet in Japan later this Spring.

Mogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Mogan of 401 North Scioto street, recently won the polevault event held in Camp Drew, Koisumi, Japan.

The local man topped all other contestants from the first cavalry artillery in the 1950 Spring meet, earning the right to compete later in a meet in Camp Drake, Asaka, Japan.

Mogan entered the U. S. Army in 1948 and was trained in Ft. Knox, Ky. He is assigned with the 77th Field Artillery Battalion as cannoneer with the 105 millimeter howitzer firing section.

They sighed in relief at the familiar handle of Skip Alexander, also at 68. But they gaped anew at the names of Harold Williams and Henry Williams, the first from Alabama and the second from Pennsylvania, who were utterly unrelated until they produced a pair of identical 69s to tie for fifth place at the end of yesterday's first round.

Where were the stars?

THEY WERE, as Connie Mack first said in predicting where the Athletics would finish in 1901, there or thereabouts.

Defending Champion Cary Middlecoff had a 71. Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum and Jimmy Demaret had 72s. Sam Snead putted like a gibbon and had a 73, three strokes over par for the 6,694-yard Merion snake pit.

Par is 70, and Mackey, 26-year-old parttime instructor from Birmingham, Ala., who is playing in his first U. S. Open, beat it by six strokes with his 64.

Jimmy McHale, the local amateur, had the old open single-round record of 65 and Tom Creavy had the old competitive course record of 66, set in the 1934 open at Merion when he was the only player to break par.

What's more, the tall, good-looking Mackey, who sports a crew cut and the mannerisms of his teacher, Ex-Ballplayer Sam Byrd, could make it two records in a row today even if he shot no better than a 73.

That would give him a two-round total of 137 to beat Snead's 1948 count of 138 which stands as the tournament's record for the first 36 holes.

Offer Readied For Philly A's

PHILADELPHIA, June 9 — A syndicate of businessmen reportedly will make a formal bid to buy the sixth-place Philadelphia Athletics within the next 48 hours.

James P. Clark, president of the Eagles professional football team, declared that he has already discussed the matter with Connie Mack Jr., treasurer of the A's.

Members of the Mack family indicated that they were willing to listen to offers, at least.

Yellowbud Tops Dunlaps, 6-4

Pickaway Grain of Yellowbud posted 6-4 victory over Dunlaps of Williamsport Thursday in an exhibition softball game in Ted Lewis Park.

The score of the game was tied at 4-all in the fifth frame of the encounter, while the Yellowbud aggregation broke the deadlock in the sixth with its winning brace of runs.

Winning pitcher for the Grain team was Roy Bartlett, while William Elliott was charged with the Williamsport loss.

Ted Lewis Park Board Planning Improvement Program

Wading Pool Is Readied For Tots

Tennis Court Fixup Studied

Circleville youngsters probably will be able to use the wading pool in Ted Lewis Park in about two weeks.

Bob Colville, member of the park board, this week said some minor repairs are necessary for the new pool before it is opened this year.

In addition, the board is seeking someone to supervise the pool and direct the youngsters as they play.

Colville said that he hopes to find a Boy Scout of high school age to take over the duties.

Meanwhile, plans are being considered for putting the park tennis court in shape.

Colville said he has been approached by one Circleville service club which has asked for a project in the park, and that he suggested the club help by donating blacktop for the courts.

"THE CLUB hasn't contacted me again," Colville said, "so I don't know when we can get started on it."

The tennis courts have been a perennial headache to the board since they first were laid out.

When the courts were laid out it was discovered that the dimensions were correct, but that the planners had failed to take the problem of backcourt play into consideration. In other words, the courts did not extend outward behind the backcourt foul line.

The board recently has installed steel posts behind the courts and now plans to fence in the area.

Colville says the wire for fencing has been purchased, but that the board does not want to string it until one low corner of the courts is blacktopped.

In addition, instead of providing the regular cord mesh nets standard in tennis the board has installed steel mesh nets, topped with a canvas coating. The nets are not standard in height.

Colville said that the board hopes to work toward providing regulation nets.

The tennis area probably one of the most popular spots in the park, nearly always filled with youngsters.

The three playing courts are the only available tennis facilities either in or near the city.

PIQUA, June 9—Two-year-old Carol Ganger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ganger, died in Piqua Memorial hospital yesterday of injuries suffered when a cow fell on her.

Driver Facing Manslaughter In Fatal Wreck

CLEVELAND, June 9—The first drive-in bank of its kind in the country will soon be built in Cleveland by the Central National Bank.

According to Bank President Loring L. Gelbach, a two-lane driveway 189 feet long and 19 feet wide will run through the building. Construction costs have been estimated at more than $300,000.

Motorists will enter the proposed Playhouse Square branch through a Euclid Avenue entrance and drive to one of three teller windows, where they will be able to deposit without leaving their cars.

Aside from the novel physical appearance of the building itself, unique banking methods will also be devised and a police system established to facilitate the traffic of bankers past its windows.

The bank, construction of which is to get underway immediately, will be situated in the four-story Roger Building, soon to be renamed the Playhouse Square Building. Gelbach said the new branch bank is expected to open in November.

Jalopy Needs A Little Fixing

HAMILTON, June 9—A teenager attempted to avoid an auto safety check by Hamilton police and apparently with good reason.

The police spotted 19-year-old Virgil Hubbard trying to steer his 15-year-old jalopy around a check lane. Hubbard was forced to go through.

The check revealed the jalopy had no brakes, no clutch, no head light, no tread on the tires and no windshield wiper. Every window had been broken and patched with adhesive tape until the driver's visibility was practically nil. The car was impounded.

terday of injuries suffered when a cow fell on her.

Carol's father said the little girl was standing in the family barn when the cow leaped over a stall, fell and crushed her.

Cops Ignoring Skeleton Find

DAYTON, June 9—Two human skeletons were uncovered in the backyard of a suburban Shiloh home—and the police received the news today with a polite yawn.

It happens the skeletons were unearthed by a Dayton amateur archaeologist, John Allman, and are believed to be those of Indians. They are the fourth and fifth uncovered from what was apparently an Indian burial ground in what is now the backyard of Paul L. Miller.

Allman estimated the skeletons were between 300 and 500 years old.

Autoist Escapes After Crash

COLUMBUS, June 9—Raymond Walters, 26, of Columbus, drove his 1949 convertible into the side of a Pennsylvania Railroad engine early today, but went home with only minor injuries.

Police said the engine of the car was shoved back about a foot and a half and the car virtually demolished. Walters was taken to University Hospital where he was treated for head injuries and cuts on his right arm and left leg, then released.

Ohio Methodist Statement Raps Catholic Church

LAKEESIDE, June 9—The Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church has charged the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic church with religious intolerance and called upon President Truman to discontinue sending a personal representative to the Vatican.

More than 2,000 Methodist ministers and laymen representing 1,188 Methodist churches of Ohio adopted a composite report here late yesterday. It was presented by Dr. Gaston Foote of Dayton and Dr. John Alton Taylor of Columbus.

Concerning its opposition to Catholic views, the report said: "The Roman Catholic church teaches the doctrine that there is no religion but the Catholic religion. Consequently, to them freedom of religion can only mean freedom of religion for the Roman Catholic religion."

"Our quarrel is with the hierarchy of that church that seeks to bring every nation and institution under the control of the Vatican."

CALLING UPON the President to discontinue sending a representative to the Vatican, the Methodists explained:

"The Roman Catholic church is a church and not a religious state. If she is a religious state, then an accredited ambassador, approved by Congress is in order. It would follow, however, that members of this religious belief would be swearing allegiance to a foreign power, the pope of Rome."

Referring to charges of "pink fringe" activities hurled recently at a prominent Methodist organization, the report stated the Methodists' unqualified opposition to Communism.

It warned, however, that "all is not 'Red' simply because an 'ex-Red' or 'non-Red' so testifies."

The diving suit was invented by Leonard Norcross, Dixfield, Me., who obtained a patent in 1834.

Price Of Milk Due For Hike

COLUMBUS, June 9—The Agriculture Department has recommended an increase of 10 cents per 100 pounds in minimum producer prices of major milk classes in the Columbus marketing area.

The recommendation, for the July-September period, will be submitted to a referendum of dairymen.

The Agriculture Department said yesterday that the price boost is necessary to help dairy farmers meet additional costs caused by new Grade A milk requirements which become effective this month.

SIMMONS BEAUTYREST

Famous "Luxury Comfort"
With the 837 Independent Coil Springs
Beautyrest Mattress
by SIMMONS

$59.50
Guaranteed 10 Years

Matching Box Spring $59.50

There's real floating comfort in this dependable mattress by Simmons, one of the oldest and most reliable names in the bedding industry! You'll marvel at the bouncy buoyancy from the sturdy innerspring unit. Even the springy, sag-resistant built border is jam-packed with comfortably firm support.

Why it's wiser to buy a Beautyrest:

- ★ 837 individually-pocketed, independent coil springs!
- ★ 8 side ventilators to help keep interior fluffy-fresh!
- ★ Sag-proof border for all-over mid-mattress comfort!
- ★ 10 year guarantee! Costs little more than 1c a night!
- ★ Superior construction—needs turning only 4 or 5 times a year!
- ★ Lasts 3 times longer than any other inner-spring mattress—proved in scientific durability tests!
